SUGAR BROKER'S TRIAL.

Recalcitrant Witness Chapman the First to Appear. The trial of Elverton R. Chapman, a broker of New York city, who, with six others, was indicted by the grand jury of the others, was indicted by the grand jury of the District of Columbia on October 1, 1894, for refusing to answer certain questions propounded by a committee of the Senate in May, 1894, investigating charges of denis in sugar by Senators, was begun at 10 o'clock this monthing before Juage Cole, in criminal court, division No. 1.

Nothing more was done, however, than the selection of a jury, when the case went over until next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The reason for this was the illness of ex-Senator Edmands, one of the counsel for the defendant, Judge Jere Wilson and Mr. Nathamel Wilson, the other attorneys in the case, were both present. They had a conference with District Attorney Arthur A. Briney before 10 o'clock, and after the jury bad been impanished Mr. Briney asked the court to permit the case to go over on account of Judge Edmunds absence until Monday. The request was granted.

The trial was bernin and will be held. District of Columbia on October 1, 1894, quest was granted.

The trial was begun and will be held in the old city council room west of the main terrace of the city half building. On the walls of the dingy old room are the pictures in old-fashioned frames of Washington, Jackson, Mr. Corosran, the founder of the Corcoran Art Gallery, and others, all life size.

ASKS AN INVESTIGATION.

Mr. Boatner Inquires as to Nullifica-tion of Congress' Laws.

Representative Boatner, of Louisiana, to-day introduced in the House a resolution directing the Judiciary Committee to in-vestigate as to how far an official of the vestigate as to how far an official of the government can mulify a law of Congress. The resolution is insed upon the decision of Comptoner Bowler, refusing to pay the $84,500,000 appropriated at the last session to pay the bounties due sugar producers, as provided by the McKinley act. It had been expected that a resolution of impeachment would be offered, but this will not be done until the Judiciary Committee makes a report as to whether Comptrodier Bowler exceeded his authority in withholding the bounty after it had been appropriated.

THE DISTRICT IN CONGRESS TRUSTEES TO CONSIDER IT

Bills Introduced Raising the Age First Presbyterian Church Officials Will Meet Tonight.

> He Had Better Resign-History of the Matter.

A special meeting of the board of trustees of the First Presbyterian Church has been called for tonigut. President R. W. Tyler will preside. The board will have under consideration among other matters the present difficulty of a too full complement of pastors.

The board of trustees is composed of R. W. Tyler, president; Charles L. Du Bois, J. R. Craile, Dr. Mann and Mesars. Tolman, Jardine, Fletcher and Coledron. This board has charge of the church building and grounds and attends to the propositions for church finances.

Mr. Tyler, when seen this morning, declined to be interviewed at present, saying there would be sufficient time after the meeting of the board of trustees, which might result in a statement of the whole trouble being given to the public.

It has been intimated to Mr. Alien, one of the ex-pastors, that it might be in accord with the wishes of a number of the members of the congregation if he withdrew, and it would also huancially benefit the church. The interview at which this alleged intimation was given Mr. Allen occurred, in the office of Mr. R. W. Tyler, and thas gentleman admitted this morning that such an impression might have been given Mr. Allen, occurred, in the office of Mr. R. W. Tyler, and thas gentleman admitted this morning that such an impression that Mr. Allen's resignation would be acceptable was not official, but merely given as an act of friendliness on Mr. Tyler's part.

Others assert that a pelition recommending such action received the names of a number of the church members. Mr. Allen dad not look upon the assertions in the light intended, and, it is alleged the board of sessions was sent to a trustee informing him that such implied request for Mr. Allen's resignation did not receive their sanction. It is alleged that the parpose in getting Mr. Allen on the board of sessions was sent to a trustee informing him that such implied request for Mr. Allen's resignation did not receive their sanction. The board of sessions is composed of Mr.
Otis C. Wright, Mr. Dairyon. Theodore F.
Sargeant, Octavius Knight. Ar. Mr. Lockhardt. This body has full energe of supplying the pulpit. It is to them Mr. Allen hardt. This body has the hard will direct his grievance.

Dr. Sunderland, meanwhile, is looking on, expressing himself as perfectly satisfied with any arrangement resulting in peace.

WILSON'S BILL

once redeemed should only be resistent for gold coin, and such reissues should be mandatory when coin is deposited in the Treasury.

The resomption fund should be segregated from all other moneys of the United States, and paid out only in redemption of United States notes. With such provisions in the law the resomption fund could not be invaded to meet deficiencies in the revenue. They should be provided for by bonds or certificates of indehtedness, of such denominations, at a low rate of freeze, which would be readily taken by the people through national banks, subtreasuries and post offices.

Farther on in his speech Mr. Sherman spoke of the President's complaint that notes were presented and paid, reissued and paid again and again, making a continuous circuit. When, he asked, had that circuit commenced? It had commenced when this administration, supported by the last Congress, had created a deficiency, and it continued because the deficiency continued. What was Secretary Carlisie's ground for the hope expressed by him that in two or three years there would be no deficit? The only ground for such hope was that a new administration would provide more revenue, and then the circuit would be broken.

Why not apply the remedy now? He believed that under existing law the aggregate sum of United States notes and Treasary notes issued under the act of 1890, about $480,000,000, could easily be manutained at par with coin if the two amendments mentioned by him were adopted by Congress.

at par with coinf the two amendmentsmen-tioned by him were adopted by Congress. These notes had all the stantion, protection, and see thy that had been or could be given to national bank notes, with the added benefit that the large saving derived from them instead of to the bankers. FREE COINAGE OF SILVER Another reason, founded upon belief,

FREE COINAGE OF SILVER.

Another reason, founded upon belief, was that the national banking system could not long endure if the United States notes were withdrawn. The disposition of silver certificates was a much more serious problem. They were, in express terms, redeemable in silver dollars. Ough they not, he asked, be redeemed by silver dollars, redeemable in silver dollars, ough they not, he asked, be redeemed by silver dollars was no injustice in paying them for silver certificates.

Then came up the question of free coinage dangerous policy. All these were vital questions. The President recommended the redemption and cancellation of outstanding United States notes and of the Treasury notes issued for the purchase of silver under the law of 1890, and the substitution of national bank notes as the only currency. In this the President was supported by large and influential classes of citizens, most of toem engaged in banking, or classed as capitalists. They forgot that during a period of fourteen years there had been no difficulty in maintaining government notes at par with coin. There was scarcely a doubt but that in all probable conditions of trade or finance (except the contingency of war), the whole mass of United States notes and Treasury notes now in circulation could be maintained at par with coin if it were supported by a reserve of gold coin or buillion, or silver bullion, in due proportions, equal to one-third or one-fourth of the amount of such notes.

Mr. Churchill had served in all three of the armed branches of the government service, the army, navy and revenue-cutter service, the had an excellent war record. At the breaking out of the war be enlisted in the Third Massachusetts Infantry. While serving in the army and navy he was engaged in a number of the leading buttles, and had an excellent record.

At the close of the war he resigned from the navy and was appointed an assistant engineer in the revenue cutter service on December 4, 1865. He was promoted to the grade of first assistant engineer on October 24, 1872, and was made a chief engineer on March 2, 1885. During his thirty years' service in the revenue marine he served on nearly every station in the United States, and in addition made three cruises to the Bering Sea and Siberia on the revenue cutter Bear.

McKNIGHT IS HELD.

"Newsboys' Friend" Must Appear Be-fore the Grand Jury. Harry McKnight, who was arrested Wednesday evening by Detectives Helan and Lacey one charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, was arraigned in the police court before Judge Miller this afternoon, and after hearing the case, the court field him in $300 bonds to await the action of tribe great livry.

and after hearing the case, the court held him in $300 bonds to await the action of the grand jury.

The warrant alleged that McKnight called upon a number of prominent business men in the city on the 23d of December and presented a paper asking for subscriptions for a newsbeys' entertainment to be given Christmas night, collecting $20 in all. When he was arrested $18 was found in his pocket, and he explained that the other $3 he had spent for toys.

Lawyer Campled Carrington, for the defense, admitted that the facts set forth were true, so far as petting the money was concerned, but argued that there was nothing to show that his client's motives were other than praise worthy. The entertainment did not take place, but McKnight gave a satisfactory reason for that, and reserved the fund to be applied to the use of a newshoys' beneficial association, which he proposed to start, Judge Miller thought, however, that the government had established a case, had decided that the grand jury should investigate it.

NANNIE PLEADED GUILTY.

Dishonest Servant Girl Punished for Four Petty Larcentes. Namie Simpson the dishonest servant girl who was arrested several days ago girl who was arrested several days ago by Detectives Gallagher and Lacey for robbing occupants of the various houses at which she secured employment, was arraigned in Judge Miller's court this afternoon, four cases of petty larceny being filed against her.

She pleaded guilty in each case, and the court imposed a fine of $5 in each case. The witnesses against Nannie, and from whom she was alleged to have stolen the stuff, were Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Berry, who reside at the boarding house of Mrs. Dallagren, on Rhode Island avenue, and Mrs. Rholos, of Corcoran street.

The stolen property, consisting of laces, trimmings, towels, and similar articles, was recovered by the detectives and turned over to the owners.

COMPANY BACK OF IT.

Mr. J. B. Robinson, the richest of the South African millionaires, the largest employer of labor in the Ranchs and half owner of the yacht Valkyrie III, declares in an interview published in the St. James Gazette that Dr. Jameson's movement was wholly a British South Africa Company's invasion of the Transvaal.

The Birmingham Post, the organ of Mr. Chamberlain, secretary of state for the colonies, says that, despite the tardy disavowal of Dr. Jameson's action by the British Bouth Africa Company, it may still be necessary that the company shall forfeit its charter.

The Globe and the Pall Mall Gazette concur in the opinion that Mr. Chamberlain by issuing proclamations in Johannesburg forbidding English subjects to join Dr. Jameson is thereby bound to demand that President Kruger summarily redress the grievances of the Uillanders.

The Globe publishes a news agency dispatch from Berlin which says that Dr. Leyd, secretary of state of the South African republic, who is now in Berlin, has communicated to the emperor a direct appeal from President Kruger, asking the support of Germany.

It is rumored, the dispatch says, that the united action of France and Germany in the Transvaal is projected.

MARKET WAS WEAK.

Delay in Announcing the Bond Issue prices eccured anyware of 8t. Paul, Louis-per cent.

London was a seller of 8t. Paul, Louis-ville & Nashville and Atchison, and this, with the engagoment of $1.000.000 gold bars by Lazard Freres for shipment to Eu-rope, accounts for the weakness of the rope, accounts for the weakness of the market.

The delay in announcing a bond issue aided the bears in their work of depressing the market.

Baltimore & Ohio was offered down 5.8 to 37.7.8, with 36 as the beat bid. The arket was quiet and weak at closing
